National Consultancy to Support the Development of SDG Investor Map

2.1 Section 1. Overview of the assignment

1. Addressing global challenges, Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) provide a blueprint to achieve a more equitable and sustainable future for all. Substantial financing, as much as USD 5-7 trillion, is required to achieve the SDG Agenda by 2030 as developing countries alone face a massive funding gap of USD 4.2 trillion annually in SDG investments. To bridge this gap and alleviate the financing burden on the shoulders of governments, donor agencies and multilateral development banks, it is essential to partner with the private sector and expand SDG-related investments by unlocking private capital. Accounting for 60% of GDP, 80% of capital flows and 90% of jobs in an average developing country, private sector's engagement in development cooperation is more than vital.

Despite the potential private sector investments offer, many developing countries attract low levels of domestic and foreign investment due to reasons such as limited data and insights about investment opportunities and risks; limited capacities and networks; and high real or perceived policy and regulatory risks. However, there is also a growing interest among investors to attribute capital into activities that deliver strong financial returns while reducing poverty and inequality, advancing health and education, and protecting the environment. In order to ensure that investor interest translates into higher levels of SDG-investments, it is vital to address the current lack of intelligence and guidance around how asset owners can help generate significant SDG impact through their transactions. A major challenge constraining SDG-investments is the difficulty of identifying bankable projects for investors. With an aim to empower investors through impact intelligence products around bankable investment areas in countries with material SDG contribution, the UNDP Sustainable Finance Hub (SFH) developed the "SDG Investor Maps".

SDG Investor Maps are market intelligence tools that help the private sector identify investment themes in emerging markets which have significant potential to advance the SDGs and are aligned with government policies and sustainable development needs. Developing an SDG Investor Map requires filtering down from national priorities and development needs to derive "Investment Opportunity Areas (IOAs)". The SDG Investor Maps provide investors with market intelligence for the highlighted IOAs along with data on the expected development impact and financial prospects of such investments. They also offer White Spaces as emerging opportunities for the private sector to contribute to sustainable development progress.
